

Meta Housing Corporation

META Housing's Piedmont Senior Apartments, in North Hollywood, scored a rare triple win at "Best of Seniors Housing Design" Awards held recently in Las Vegas. The community earned a Platinum Medal in the Active Adult Community/Small (300 units or less) category; the Gold Medal in the Senior Rental Apartments category, and a special Jurors' Gold Medal for Design Innovation. The Best of Seniors Housing Design Awards are held annually by the Seniors Housing Council of the National Association of Home builders in conjunction with the International Builders' Show. The 2004 awards mark the third consecutive year in which Meta Housing has taken home Gold Medals in the competition. Shown here displaying the triple awards are from the left: John Cotton of John Cotton Architects, designer of the Piedmont Senior apartments; and John Huskey, president of Meta Housing. For information about leasing opportunities at the Piedmont, or to arrange for a tour of the community and its decorated models, call (818) 759-0500 or visit Meta Housing's web site at www.metahousing.com.
